Subject: Urgent demand to bring peace in the Chittagong Hill Tracts

Honourable Prime Minister,

Further to our memorandum of 23 February 2010 we express our deep concern at the renewed incidents of violence in the Chittagong Hill Tracts, reported on 23 February from Mahajanpara, Milanpur, Madhupur, Shatbaiyapara and adjoining areas in the Khagrachari district, including arson attacks on houses and shops and a further death, following the earlier incident of arson attacks and killings of at least two persons on 20 February 2010 in Baghaichari upazila of Rangamati district.

The CHT Commission ('CHTC') urges the Honourable Prime Minister to immediately establish a high-level, independent and impartial inquiry into the series of arson attacks on more than 200 villages in Baghaichori, Rangamati and the recent attacks in Khagrachori, and the killings that have been reported to date. We further urge that the findings of these inquiries be made public as soon as possible, and that appropriate action be taken against those found responsible for such attacks. We trust that the committee will also examine the causes and consequences of the arson attacks in Baghaichori on 19 and 20 February which were carried out in presence of the law-enforcement agencies.

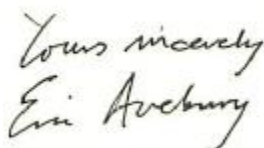

We welcome the steps taken to date to provide emergency relief, and hope that these will be swiftly followed by measures to ensure emergency shelter to those who have been rendered homeless in the past few days.

In the context of this latest and disturbing outbreak of violence, which has overwhelmingly affected Pahari women, men and children across two districts, the CHTC recommends that the Government of Bangladesh immediately take the following actions:

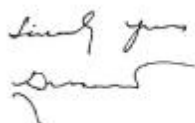

1. To ensure access of media and relief teams to the areas that have been affected.
2. To ensure that those who have been arrested go through the due process of the law.
3. To ensure that a prompt, independent and impartial investigation, at the highest level, is carried out into the arson attacks and killings, in Khagrachori town and Baghaichori upazila of Rangamati district , including into the allegations that such incidents occurred in the presence of security and law enforcement personnel; to take action against those responsible, and ensure reparations for those affected.
4. To ensure proper, adequate and effective relief and rehabilitation for the individuals affected.

We further take this opportunity to underscore the critical importance of ensuring that the process of implementation of the CHT Accord is continued according to a clear timetable, in order to facilitate the restoration of security and peace in the region.
